Hallas-Møller emerging investigator grants – bioscience and basic biomedicine

Bookmark Email Actions

Novo Nordisk Foundation | Novo Nordisk Fonden, DK

The Novo Nordisk Foundation invites applications for the Hallas-Møller emerging investigator grants in bioscience and basic biomedicine. These support research leaders in Denmark within the fields of bioscience and basic biomedicine in conducting research projects relevant to understanding the human organism and basal mechanisms underlying health and disease.

Applicants must be at the senior postdoctoral, senior researcher, assistant or associate professor level, and not have more than two to three years of group leader experience. Applicants must be employed and have their research group in Denmark during the project. The project must be anchored at a university, hospital or other non-profit research institution in Denmark. Recipients of the grant must contribute to the pre-graduate teaching environment at their host institution.

The total budget is worth DKK 40 million. Grants are worth up to DKK 10 million each over five years. Grants may cover salaries, tuition fees, operating expenses, equipment, conference participation, travel publication costs, bench fees and direct administrative costs worth up to DKK 2m a year.
